

A Name Twice Made Famous, Now a Shining Mark for Imitators.

The name "Chase," twice made famous, is a shining mark for the unscrupulous to pounce upon and appropriate in order to foist upon the public their worthless preparations. These birds of prey, by using the name Chase, expect the public to be fooled into believing they are the medicines of Dr. A. W. Chase, who first became noted as the author of the world famous Dr. Chase's Nerve Pills and family physician, and whose fame is now doubly increased by the wonderful success of his Nerve Pills, with Nerve, Brain and Blood troubles. They play upon the name Chase, but dare not use the initials "A. W."

They imitate, but dare not counterfeit the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, which identifies the Nerve Pills now recognized as infallible for building up pale, weak, thin-blooded, nerve exhausted sufferers.

Who are nerve-tired and brain-weary. Who are easily exhausted. Who are wakeful—cannot sleep. Who have nervous headache.

They remove the cause of blood impurities, securing refreshing sleep and impart strength.

CAUTION.—The protection to the public in securing the genuine and original Dr. A. W. Chase preparation is in seeing the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, M. D., is on each box. These and these only are the genuine. Do not be satisfied with anything bearing the name "Chase" without the initials "A. W." go to Dr. of Druggists or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

WORK IS RESUMED

Ill-Fated Cambria Mine Again the Scene of Usual Activity.

NOW FULLY EXPLORED

Pennsylvania Mine Inspectors Have Given Permission to Reopen the Recent Death Hole.

Sunday Was a Day of Funerals for Sorrowing Johnstown—Death List 114.

Johnstown, Pa., July 14.—After a consultation Sunday evening with the four state mine inspectors summoned here to make a thorough inspection of the Rolling Mill mine of the Cambria Steel company, where the terrible explosion occurred on Thursday, James E. Roderick, chief of the state bureau of mining inspection, dictated a notice to General Manager C. S. Price of the Cambria company, granting formal permission to resume operations in all sections of the mine, except the Klondike, this morning. The Klondike workings will likely be closed for several days until perfect security is assured through the bratticing of openings and repairs necessitated by the explosion.

Two more deaths of rescued victims have occurred since Saturday night. These deaths raise the total fatalities to 114, although the company records have it one less. Much confusion has attended the compilation of the record. Mine Superintendent G. T. Robinson last evening said: "I would not like to assert that there are no more bodies in the mine, but I don't think there are. There may be a few."

It is generally regarded as certain that the full extent of the disaster is now known. State inspectors say that the condition of all the workings are now free of gas and the almost perfect ventilating apparatus is rushing currents of pure air in the uttermost recesses of the subterranean workings. There has not been a single place outside of the old abandoned chambers that have not undergone the scrutiny of experts to pronounce everything in as good condition as could be asked or demanded. Of course the inspectors would say nothing as to their discoveries. They will remain mute to the public on the subject until called upon to testify at the inquest.

Most interest centered Sunday in the funeral obsequies which were scattered throughout the city. The black cloud of mourning was heaviest over Cambria City, where the foreign population dwells. Scenes of Saturday in this section were repeated but only with sterner force. All the churches of Johnstown paid more or less attention in their morning services to the disaster. Collections were lifted in many for the benefit of the bereft families of the poorer victims. Special masses were said in the Catholic churches. The afternoon was devoted to funerals. Incessantly processions moved out and along Chestnut street toward the Catholic cemeteries near Morrellville. All night Saturday workmen dug graves in the Morrellville cemeteries. By Sunday morning they had enough completed to care for the day's arrivals and for those who were taken to the cemetery on Saturday and had to be stored in a barn until excavations could be made for them. The burial was simplified by the digging of long trenches in place of separate graves. In one of these twenty-five coffins were lowered.

Growers Are Alarmed.

Carbondale, Ills., July 14.—Fruit and vegetable growers of southern Illinois are much alarmed over the strike of the freight handlers in Chicago. Thousands of dollars worth of tomatoes are rotting in the fields. Much fruit, including peaches and apples, is ripening and will be in marketable condition during the present week. None of the growers or shipping associations in the fruit belt will ship to Chicago under present conditions.

Charge of Murder.

Charlotte, N. C., July 14.—Thomas Sparnell, a white man, has been jailed in Salisbury, N. C., on the charge of participating in the recent lynching of two alleged negro murderers in that town. The arrest was made on a bench warrant issued by Superior Court Judge Shaw. Sparnell was detained pending a hearing, the charge against him being murder.

AN OFFICIAL CHANGE

Lord Salisbury Retires and Is Succeeded By Balfour.

London, July 14.—The marquis of Salisbury has resigned the premiership of Great Britain and Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour, the first lord of the treasury and government leader in the house of commons, has been appointed to succeed him. The announcement was officially given out Sunday evening. The prime minister laid down the responsibility of his office July 11.

LORD SALISBURY.

Within twenty-four hours his majesty elevated Mr. Balfour, the government chief representative in the house of commons, to the position of premier.

While it was expected in official and political circles that Lord Salisbury's retirement would be coincident with the coronation of King Edward, it was scarcely looked for prior to that event. Consequently about the only surprise expressed as the news spread through London concerned the date rather than the fact, of the resignation.

The real interest was not so much in reference to Lord Salisbury's withdrawal as it was in the appointment of his successor. As Lord Salisbury's withdrawal, the main reason is considered by practically all the best informed persons to have been simply a desire for a quiet life on the part of a man advanced in years, whose activities have been unusual, and whose scientific tastes predispose him to study and seclusion.

A STRONG REQUEST

Secretary Hay Has Taken Up the Green-Gaynor Case.

Washington, July 14.—Steps have been taken by the state department for the extradition to the United States of Colonel John F. Gaynor and Captain Benjamin D. Greene, now under arrest at Quebec, Canada. A formal application for their extradition has been made by Secretary Hay to Mr. Raikes, charge d'affaires of the British embassy, who is now at Newport and who, it is expected, will cable the request promptly to his government. The grounds on which extradition is asked are comprehensive in character.

This action of the state department is independent of the proceedings now in progress to obtain the extradition of the men through the ordinary judicial process. The secretary has not yet acted on the suggestion of the department of justice that there were obstructions placed in the way of the Canadian proceedings by reason of connections between counsel for Messrs. Greene and Gaynor and crown officers.

WAITING FOR WORD

Anthracite Operators Looking Forward to Miners' Convention.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 14.—The 10th week of the great anthracite miners' strike may witness the crisis. Everything now depends upon the national convention which meets at Indianapolis on Thursday. If the convention votes solid support to the hard coal miners now on strike the conflict with the operators may be prolonged indefinitely. On the other hand should substantial support not be forthcoming, it may have a discouraging effect on the strikers, and the operators, taking advantage of it, may attempt to resume operations at some of the collieries. This is the consensus of opinion as expressed in operators' and strike circles. No effort will be made by any of the large coal companies to start up any of their mines this week. Indianapolis must speak first before any move is made in that direction.

Two Boys Drowned.

Detroit, Mich., July 14.—Two boys, Anthony Rukan, aged sixteen, and Adolph Budeller, aged eighteen, residents of this city, were drowned Sunday in Cass lake, a small body of water about twenty-five miles from here, by the capsizing of their boat.

IT NOW LOOKS BAD

OTHERS TAKE A HAND

Longshoremen and Coal and Ice Teamsters Display their Sympathy for Freight Handlers.

Overtures for a Settlement Rejected By Some of the Roads and the Fight Is On.

Chicago, July 14.—Final overtures for the settlement of the strike of freight handlers and teamsters were made at meetings of the two unions last night. At the instigation of the members of the Chicago board of arbitration, the freight handlers agreed to send committees to all the railroads today. This agreement was made after the board had announced to the union men that eight of the largest railroads entering Chicago had agreed to pay 17 1/2 cents an hour to truckers, and pay for overtime and to do away with the demand for a probationary period of service.

The general managers of two of the railroads declared they had agreed to no such proposition. They declared that when the committees shall visit the railroad offices today the roads will offer them the same terms as those which were rejected by the union men Saturday. The statement from the general managers destroyed the hope of a settlement of the strike today, on the basis of the terms suggested by the general managers of the railroads.

Even if the general managers had not insisted upon maintaining their position it is not probable that a settlement could be effected. The freight handlers agreed to make another offer to reach a settlement with the railroads only to please the teamsters who previously had endorsed the attempt of the board of arbitration to settle the strike.

There is lack of evidence of their intention to make a serious effort to settle the controversy. President Curran of the freight handlers' union stated that the committees will insist on the payment of 18 cents an hour instead of 17 1/2 cents, which the railroads are reported to have offered.

He also stated that the freight handlers will make no more overtures and hereafter will reject all proposals which shall not stipulate for the payment of the wage scale as formulated by the union, and the recognition of the union. With the general managers and the unions both maintaining these respective positions, it is believed that there is slight chance for an early settlement, and that when that opportunity shall have vanished it will be a fight to a finish.

Every teamster's union in Chicago that has members handling freight voted Sunday to refuse to take teams to the freight depots.

Longshoremen of Chicago, who have been in only a partially organized condition, were formed into a union Sunday. They are out now in sympathy with the freight handlers, but may now inaugurate an independent strike of their own, if a higher scale of wages for loading and unloading the big lake boats shall be refused.

The ice teamsters also have agreed not to ice refrigerator cars, nor to visit the railroad yards. This is virtually a sympathetic strike and until the railroads shall settle the trouble with the freight handlers the ice storage points along the railroad lines will have to be closed.

The coal teamsters at a meeting Sunday determined that no member of the union shall go near the railroad freight sheds during the strike. While there is little likelihood of the coal teamsters being asked to haul from the freight houses, they decided to be prepared for such a contingency by resolving not to touch any articles unloaded from freight cars by non-union laborers.

Still After Tracey.

Seattle, Wash., July 14.—Notwithstanding the general belief that Tracey is on the verge of collapse as the result of buckshot wounds and illness resulting from exposure in the wet brush, he managed to keep hidden from the officers all day Sunday. This was especially disappointing to the four sheriffs now on his trail, as they had led him an exhausting chase and hoped to push the pursuit to an actual encounter. The officers, however, have not wavered and the hunt is being pushed with greater zeal than ever. The sheriffs are convinced that the convict is within the territory guarded by the deputies and possemen.

Safe and Sound.

Seattle, Wash., July 14.—The steamer Portland arrived at St. Michaels July 2 according to a special dispatch from Dawson. The vessel is in good condition and the passengers and crew are well.

Bluefields Not Taken.

Managua, Nicaragua, July 14.—The director general of telegraphs of Nicaragua declares that Bluefields has not been taken by revolutionists, as has been reported.

MINERS' CONVENTION

Indianapolis, July 14.—Delegates began arriving in Indianapolis today for the special national convention of the United Mine Workers Thursday. The arrivals today were from several different states. A majority of the delegates, however, will come from Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, Michigan and Kentucky.

By Wednesday night it is expected there will be more than 1,000 men here for this convention, which without doubt will be the most important event in the labor and industrial world of the last few years. The question of whether or not there shall be a general suspension of work in the coal fields in support of the anthracite strike is to be settled. This involves the fuel supply of the country, and until the convention is adjourned there will be much uneasiness among manufacturers who are uncertain as to their fuel supply. The railroad companies evidently have been alarmed for some time, as they have been confiscating coal so as to be prepared for emergencies. The men who are now here for the convention are inclined to be reticent, which is taken as an indication that they are waiting for President Mitchell to lead the way. It is quite generally believed that it will rest almost entirely with Mitchell as to what course is taken. Many who have followed the course of Mitchell and his associates since the strike began are of the opinion that a general strike will not be ordered, but that the convention will decide to levy a heavy assessment on the bituminous men by which the anthracite strike may be supported indefinitely.

Oliver Ensley of Indianapolis, Republican candidate for county treasurer, proposes to make a house-to-house canvass of the farming district. In order to accomplish this he proposes to make the canvass on foot. There have been practically all kinds of campaigning in Marion county, but Ensley is the first candidate to propose to walk through the farming districts. He says he means just what he says and that he intends to visit all the voters. Ensley's party has a normal majority of 2,000, but that is not large for a county of over 200,000 population, and he intends to take no chances of losing. His opponent is August Kuhns, a wealthy and aggressive German, who is also "footing" it among the voters at a lively pace. In fact, the campaign in Marion county this year is to be centered around the candidates for treasurer. Apropos of Ensley's proposition to walk through the farming district, it may be mentioned that one of the few Republicans to be elected to office in Clark county, this state, won by tramping from house to house, so Ensley has a favorable precedent to go by.

James E. Watson of Rushville, congressman for District Six, has made plans for an extensive Western speaking—rather plans have been made with him as the centerpiece, as he is to speak only by invitation. He will leave within a few days for Kansas to deliver a number of speeches. En route he will speak at a few places. Reaching San Francisco, he proposes to help manage the campaign of Chas. E. Shively of Richmond for supreme vice chancellor of the Knights of Pythias. Watson himself is a prominent member of the supreme lodge. He expects to return to Indiana after the close of the K. of P. convention, to look after his own interests in the Sixth. Representative Landis of the Ninth district, who is also well known throughout the country now for his oratory, will have a few joint debates with Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, before he opens his own campaign.

The state Epworth League convention ended with an all-day meeting that began at sunrise yesterday. Much enthusiasm and earnestness was manifested. The prayer meeting was held at the monument and was largely attended, even at the early hour. The Leaguers scattered through the various churches during the remainder of the morning and then assembled at 3:30 in the afternoon for evangelistic services led by Dr. L. W. Munhall. The farewell meeting was held last night in Tomlinson hall. The program included a song service at 7:45 with John P. Hillis in charge. There was an address at 8 o'clock by Dr. S. A. Steele. The closing sermon was by the Rev. Wilbur S. Sacerdian, whose subject was "The Struggle for the Life of Others." The convention as a whole was one of the best the league has held in Indiana.

Bees Attack Baby.

Hartford City, Ind., July 14.—A swarm of bees settled on the one-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Gable and almost stung it to death. It had been left in the yard alone when attacked and had its mother not rescued it when she did death would have soon ensued, as it was then on the verge of convulsions.

Forger Convicted.

Noblesville, Ind., July 14.—Orlando Shaul of Cicero, charged with forging William O. Horton's name to a check for $726 and presenting it at the Westfield bank, was found guilty Saturday evening and was sentenced to from two to fourteen years in the Michigan City prison. The defendant was also fined $150.

PAST IS A BLANK

Mishawaka Man Ten Years Ago Left Home and Has Just "Come To."

ODD MENTAL HIATUS

Theodore Hoerstmann Suddenly Regains Memory of Things That Have Been Wholly Blank.

The Interim, However, Is Entirely Absent from His Consciousness.

Mishawaka, Ind., July 14.—An exceedingly remarkable circumstance in connection with the unexpected return to this city of Theodore Hoerstmann, who left his store and stock here ten years ago, is the fact that he can remember nothing of what has transpired in that period of years. He can give no excuse for deserting his relatives and flourishing mercantile business, cannot tell where he spent the time nor what sort of labor contributed the earnings necessary to his subsistence. The past ten years are a blank to the ex-merchant.

Four days ago Hoerstmann, while standing in the shadow of the walls of St. Canisius college, Buffalo, where he had received his education, regained his normal condition of mind. Thoughts of a home, of parents and of Mishawaka flashed through his mind and he entered the college and met an old professor who had been one of his instructors in years gone by. Up to that time his mind was a blank, and when told to forget the past and start life anew he said: "There is no past to forget."

A FIELD THAT FAILED

Marshall County Oil Seekers Give Up at a Loss.

Plymouth, Ind., July 14.—The search for oil and gas in Marshall county has been abandoned. A number of wells were drilled near Bremen and a fortune expended in the search for oil and gas in a field which was believed to be productive. The machinery will be moved to Elkhart county, where 15,000 acres of land have been leased for the sinking of wells by a syndicate of Indiana capitalists.

Boy's Thrilling Experience.

Martinsville, Ind., July 14.—Ripley Goss, aged fourteen years, drove a wagon and team of horses on the I. & V. railroad, tracks near Paragon running in front of a passenger train running fifty miles an hour. The horses crossed safely, but the engine struck the wagon in the middle, cutting it in two and throwing the boy in the air. The train stopped, and when young Goss was picked up he was found to have escaped injury except for a few minor bruises and scratches.

The Wrong Bottle.

Marion, Ind., July 14.—David Gunion, aged 68 years, is dead, the result of drinking poison for whiskey. Gunion had been taking treatment in the city hospital and when he went to the hospital he begged the nurse to give him some whiskey. She gave him a small drink and when she left the room Gunion went to the medicine case, secured a bottle and poured two ounces of what he supposed was whiskey into a glass and drank it. He had taken nuxvomica and he died within fifteen minutes.

Smallpox Decreasing.

Indianapolis, July 14.—The state board of health's June smallpox report just completed shows 520 cases in the state as compared with 692 cases in May. There were three deaths in June and one in May. The deaths occurred at Knightstown, Lewisville and at Mchambsburg. The disease in June was confined to forty-eight counties, while in May cases were found in sixty counties.

Will Go Out of Business.

Indianapolis, July 14.—The Indianapolis Gas company has served formal notice on Mayor Bookwalter that it will cease the natural gas business in Indianapolis Sept. 30. The city will resist this, claiming that the company cannot thus arbitrarily abandon its service, and an interesting legal contest seems likely.

Bees Attack Baby.

Hartford City, Ind., July 14.—A swarm of bees settled on the one-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Gable and almost stung it to death. It had been left in the yard alone when attacked and had its mother not rescued it when she did death would have soon ensued, as it was then on the verge of convulsions.

MR. WU DISPLACED

New Chinese Ambassador Will Go to Washington.

Peking, July 14.—Sir Liang Chen Tung, secretary of the Chinese embassy to the United States. New ministers to Russia, France and Italy have also been named. The selections for these posts show that the dowager empress continues to regard the diplomatic service as unimportant. None of the appointees is of higher than the blue button rank, and none has held any important office. All of them except Liang Chen Tung are unknown to the foreign community. Liang Chen Tung's appointment pleases the Americans here. The newly appointed diplomat was educated in America. He is a graduate of Yale university and is able, dignified and honest. He is the first of the body of students sent to America in the '70's to receive recognition befitting their accomplishments, the Chinese officials having disliked them because of their progressive views.

He Was Looking for It.

Washington, July 14.—Mr. Wu, the Chinese minister at Washington, was not surprised to hear of the appointment of a successor to himself, as he has been expecting an announcement of this character for some time. He had received notice that his services would be required in another capacity, and for this reason has been prepared to hear of the naming of his successor at any time.

AWAITING SETTLEMENT

Friars' Case Will Not Be Announced Until Agreement.

Oyster Bay, July 14.—No statement of the conclusion reached by the president and Secretary Root concerning the friars' question has been given out, but unofficially it is understood that a note is being drafted in response to that transmitted by the pope through Governor Taft to the administration. As Governor Taft stated the negotiations, it is likely that the reply of this government will be sent to the vatican authorities through him. Ample assurance is given that the United States will take strong ground in support of its contention that the friars must be eliminated from the Philippines equator. It is absolutely stated that no official statement of any phase of the situation will be made public until the negotiations with the vatican have been concluded and that then the announcement will be made from Washington.

GOOD LIVING

Quite often results in bad health, because what is termed "good living" is usually the gratification of the palate without reference to the nutrition of the body. When the good liver is a business man and rises from a full meal to plunge at once into work requiring mental effort the result is almost sure to be disastrous, because digestion draws upon the same nervous forces which are employed in thought. In time the stomach becomes diseased, the processes of digestion and nutrition are imperfectly performed and there is a physical breakdown.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It eliminates the effete poisonous matter which originates in the system as a consequence of imperfect digestion. It gives sound health to the whole body.

"I wish to say to the world that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has proved a great blessing to me," writes Mrs. Ellen E. Bacon, of Shutesbury, Franklin Co., Mass. "Prior to September, 1897, I had doctored for my stomach trouble for several years, going through a course of treatment without any real benefit. In September, 1896, I had very sick spells and grew worse, could eat but little. I commenced in September, 1897, to take Dr. Pierce's medicine, and in a short time I could eat and work. I have gained twenty pounds in two months."

GEORGE ELIOT'S FACE.

Said to Have Been a Combination of Dante and Savonarola.

"She was not, as the world in general is aware, a handsome or even a personable woman. Her face was long; the eyes not large or beautiful in color—they were, I think, of a grayish blue; the hair, which she wore in old fashioned braids, coming low down on either side of her face, of a rather light brown. It was streaked with gray when last I saw her. Her figure was of middle height, large boned and powerful. Lewes often said that she inherited from her peasant ancestors a frame and constitution originally very robust. Her head was finely formed, with a noble and well balanced arch from brow to crown. The lips and mouth possessed a power of infinitely varied expression.

"George Lewes once said to me, when I made some observation to the effect that she had a sweet face (I meant that the face expressed great sweetness): 'You might say what a sweet hundred faces! I look at her sometimes in amazement. Her countenance is constantly changing.'

"The said lips and mouth were distinctly sensuous in form and fullness. She has been compared to the portraits of Savonarola (who was frightful) and of Dante (who, though stern and bitter looking, was handsome). Something there was of both faces in George Eliot's physiognomy.

"Lewes told us in her presence of the exclamation uttered suddenly by some one to whom she was pointed out at a place of public entertainment. 'That,' said a bystander, 'is George Eliot.' The gentleman to whom she was thus indicated gave one swift, searching look and exclaimed, sotto voce, 'Dante's aunt!' Lewes thought this happy, and he recognized the kind of likeness that was meant to the great singer of the Divine Comedy. She herself playfully disclaimed any resemblance to Savonarola. But, although such resemblance was very distant—Savonarola's peculiarly unbalanced countenance being a strong caricature of hers—some likeness there was."

DAIRY NOTES.

Clover is better than timothy for cows.

Regularity in feeding and milking is important.

To get all of the butter the cream must be uniformly ripened.

In order to secure rich milk start with a rich cow and feed her rich foods.

Kicking a cow that is lying down may make her get up more quickly, but it will not induce her to give any more milk.

If rock salt is kept in the yard where the cows can lick it every day, there is no danger that they will get too much at once.

One of the most important conditions of churning is the temperature of the cream. No guess should be allowed, but a good thermometer used.

Judge Davis' Will.

The late Noah Davis, justice of the supreme court of New York, was one of many judges and lawyers who make the courtroom the scene of some of our best wit and humor. The New York Commercial Advertiser gives some illustrations.

Once a lawyer objected to a witness, but Judge Davis refused to sustain him. The lawyer cried, "But, your honor, I submit!" And here he broke off.

"That's right," said the judge quickly, "always submit. Crier, adjourn court!"

In one case over which he presided there were fifty-five distinct offenses and four counts on each offense, 220 in all.

"Well," said Judge Davis, "there are more counts than in a German principality."

Scalloped Bananas.

Bananas are good enough in their ordinary simplicity, but some persons there are who like bananas made into a sort of scallop in this way: Cut half a dozen bananas into half inch slices. Cut some bread into small pieces and place a layer of these in the bottom of a pudding dish. Add a layer of bananas, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and one tablespoonful of lemon juice. Repeat these layers until all have been used, having bread as the topmost. Put over the top a tablespoonful of melted butter and sprinkle lightly with sugar. Bake half an hour in a quick oven.

Society Molars.

Patient—Not exactly. They seem to cut the others.

Dentist—Naturally. They don't belong to the same set, you know.—Chicago News.

The Thing That Puzzled the Patient
"You may be thankful for your excellent constitution. It has pulled you through many a spell of sickness."

Her Wedding.

Mrs. Dearborn—Was your wedding in June?

Mrs. Wabash—Yes; three of them were.—Yonkers Statesman.

PROPOSE TO DESTROY PROTECTION

And Return to the Industrial Conditions Prevailing Under the Last Law Tariff Administrations—Cognate Reasons Why Indiana Voters Will Prefer to Let Well Enough Alone.

"We *** demand that tariff duties shall be levied for the purposes of revenue only."

The pronouncement of the Indiana Democratic state platform above quoted again brings to the front in Indiana the issue of protection. It will be noted that it is not a mere modification of schedules that is proposed, but an absolute abolition of protection as a legislative policy, something not even attempted by the framers of the Wilson-Gorman tariff law. Instead of admitting free or at a low rate of duty, such articles as sugar, tea and coffee, not produced in this country or produced in sufficient quantity to supply the demand, a "tariff for revenue only," indiscriminately laid on all articles entering into American consumption is seriously proposed.

It will be remembered that the only step toward a tariff-for-revenue law of which this generation knows anything, produced ruin but not revenue. It occasioned an annual deficit, and President Cleveland was compelled, in time of peace, to sell bonds to the amount of $262,000,000, which, with interest to the time of maturity, will cost the country a half billion dollars. It was predicted that the Dingley law would fall as a revenue producer. Its efficiency has been amply demonstrated. It has yielded an annual average of more than $215,000,000, as against an annual average of something over $162,000,000 under the law it displaced on the statute books. For the fiscal year 1902 the surplus was more than $80,000,000, after war taxes amounting to $100,000,000 had been repealed. Such a treasury surplus has been accumulated that it has been possible to wipe out all the war taxes without anyone fearing the operations of the "endless chain" which worried President Cleveland and the country six years ago.

Employment and Wages.

Three million men were out of employment in this country according to Sampel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, during the low-tariff period it is proposed to bring back. In Indiana the unemployed numbered fully 150,000. The loss to the workmen in wages throughout the United States aggregated nearly two billion dollars a year, fully nine billion dollars in five years—which is more than all the gold and silver in the world. The statistics of the Massachusetts bureau of labor, a typical manufacturing state, show that during the past four years employment has increased twice as fast as population, and wages twice as fast as employment; if the comparison was with 1894, 1895 or 1896, the figures would be far more eloquent. These are the conditions which inspire the leadership of reorganized Democracy in this state to call for a return to the state of affairs existing under the last Cleveland administration.

Prosperity of the Farmer.

The Orange Judd Farmer truthfully declared in October, 1901, that "the most prosperous year in the history of the American farmer is drawing to a close." Yet it was a year of short crops. The statistics of the department of agriculture show that in 1896 our last low-tariff year, a year of good crops, the total value of the products of the American farm was $1,825,500,000; in 1901, our last protection year, a year of short crops, the total value of American farm products was $2,832,500,000. The value of live stock increased from $1,625,000,000 in 1896 to $2,681,000,000 in 1901. The aggregate increase amounts to two billion dollars, not including the increase in value of lands, which would add billions more. It may be added that 1901 was not an exceptional year. It was the fifth year of steadily improving agricultural conditions. The statistics for 1902 will show that the upward trend has continued, with increased momentum, up to this time. The Orange Judd Farmer, a conservative farm journal without politics, was led to remark, in commenting on the figures for 1901: "All history affords no precedent for so remarkable a transformation." Yet the reorganized Indiana Democracy calmly proposes as an ample "remedy" for existing conditions the utter overthrow of protection. That it would change conditions is certain; that it would change them otherwise than infinitely for the worse, no one with a memory long enough to stretch back to 1896 believes.

Other Contrasted Conditions.

Since 1894 savings bank deposits in this country have increased more than a billion dollars, and they are growing at the rate of $200,000,000 a year. The premiums paid to insurance companies show an increase of $400,000,000 a year as compared with the only low tariff period of which this generation knows anything. Our exports are nearly double what they were in 1895 and during the five years of the Dingley law the balance of trade in our business dealings with the world amounts to three billion dollars. In the four years 1893, 1894, 1895 and 1896, we exported $200,000,000 more gold than we imported; in the four years 1897, 1898, 1899 and 1900 we imported $200,000,000 more than we exported. The gold holdings of the United States at this time aggregate $550,000,000—more gold than was ever held by the treasury before in the history of the country.

The liabilities of failing firms in 1893, 1894, 1895 and 1896 averaged $229,000,000 a year; for the four years ending with 1901 they averaged only about one-half as much, despite the great increase in the number of business undertakings. The amount of money in the United States per capita has increased from $25.62 in 1896 to $31.98 in 1902; the amount in circulation per capita has increased during the same period from $21.44 to $28.02; the per capita payment of interest on the public debt per year has been decreased since 1896 from 49 cents to 38 cents; the exports per capita increased from $12.29 to $18.81. As indicating the general prosperity of the people, it may be noted that the postal revenues have increased from $1.17 per capita to $1.44 per capita—and there is no better index of general business conditions. To the statement that the cost of living has increased in proportion with the growth of individual incomes, it may be answered that the savings bank deposits of $200,000,000 a year, the $400,000,000 annual payments in life insurance premiums, and the unprecedented discharge of mortgages on the homes of the workers in city and country indicate very clearly to the contrary.

Monuments to Protective Policy.

Within the past four years the giant strides of the United States toward supremacy not only in some, but all the markets of the world, has become a subject not only of comment, but of alarm, in every European country. And well may they envy this nation, with our two billions of money in circulation, our annual business transactions of thirty billions, our annual favorable balance of trade of six hundred millions, its annual agricultural output of eight billions, our annual bank clearings of one hundred billions, our annual manufactures of fifteen billions, our life insurance of thirteen billions, our national bank deposits of three billions, our savings bank and loan association deposits of three billions, our wealth of one hundred billions, and our net debt of less than a billion, which, alone among the great nations of the world, we are paying off.

It has been remarked that with only 5 per cent of the world's population and 7 per cent of its area, we are about equal industrially to half the remainder of mankind. Here are some interesting figures along this line, presented by Senator Gallinger in a recent speech:

We equal or surpass all the rest of the world in corn, cotton, eggs, petroleum, leather products, copper and forest products.

Of the following we produce two-thirds as much as the rest of the world: Coal, pig iron, steel, and three-fifths of the total food and agricultural products and manufactures.

We produce one-half as much as the rest of the world in silver, iron ore, fish; one-third as much in gold, wheat, oats, hay, butter and cheese; one-fourth as much in hops and beer; one-fifth to one-tenth as much in barley and wool.

We consume, reckoned in value, twice as much corn as all the rest of the world combined, one-fifth as much wheat, one-third as much oats, one-third as much cotton, one-fifth as much wool, one-third as much sugar, one-half as much fish, nearly as much coffee, one-fourth as much tea, about three-fifths as much meat—all food and agricultural products.

We have one-third as much wealth as all the rest of the world, one-third as much gold, one-fifth as much silver, one-tenth as much sheep, one-third as many cows, as much forest area, two-thirds the railroad mileage, or, counting total track, about as much as all the rest of the world combined. We have twice as much life insurance in force, one-half as much savings bank deposits, we spend two-thirds as much for education, we have one-fourth the splurges in operation, nearly one-fourth as much shipping, one-fourth as many exports, about one-tenth as much revenue and expenditures, and less than one-thirtieth as much debt.

Letting Well Enough Alone.

It seems that we have a good deal at stake. Is the country sick enough to require the attention of the legislative quacks who brought it to death's door so short a time ago that every man in Indiana old enough to vote remembers the results with disgust? Indiana is ready for no backward step. The sentiment of her people farmers and manufacturers, capitalists and wage-earners, is in accord with the intelligent and patriotic declaration of the Republican state platform on the tariff question, which is as follows:

We adhere to the policy of protection. Under it our industries have developed and the opportunities of labor have been increased and wages maintained at a higher rate than would have been otherwise possible.

We favor the extension of our markets through carefully guarded reciprocity arrangements with other countries wherever it can be done without "interrupting our home production." While we favor such modification of tariff schedules as from time to time are required by changing conditions we insist that such changes shall be made in line with the fundamental principle of protection.

It Has Been Noticed.

"There's a rather queer thing that I have noticed about people who follow the profession of letters."

"What's that?"

"The man who writes just to keep the pot boiling is not the one who produces the hottest stuff."—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Poor Millionaire.

Shot Wife and Self.

Evansville, Ind., July 14.—John Feniger, aged 46, a coal miner, shot his wife to death in this city Sunday because she would not live with him. He then shot himself in the mouth and is in a serious condition. Feniger was under the influence of liquor when he committed the crime. He has been arrested a number of times for breach of the peace. The officers are of the opinion that he is insane. He is at a hospital and the physicians say he has a slim chance of recovery.

A Royal Visitor.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—Emperor Nicholas II, the czarowitch and many nobles greeted King Victor Emmanuel of Italy upon his arrival at the railway station here at 4:30 Sunday afternoon. A banquet in honor of the royal guest was given in the hall of Peter the Great in the palace. The official papers extend to King Victor Emmanuel a sympathetic greeting, declaring that the interests of Russia and Italy are antagonistic in no quarter whatever.

Glad to See Him.

London, July 14.—Lord Kitchener reached London Saturday afternoon, and his progress through the metropolis was one of the most memorable of the many remarkable of the past three years. From the moment he set foot in London to the time of his disappearance beneath the portal of St. James palace, Kitchener received such an outburst of popular enthusiasm as quite overshadowed the demonstrations on previous similar occasions.

The Windward Sails.

New York, July 14.—The Perry Arctic steamer Windward arrived at Jersey City Sunday, went into commission and departed for the North today.

Crane Island.

In Lake Minnetonka, Minnesota, there is a picturesque island which takes its name from the fact that it is uninhabited by man and given over to the cranes. Generations back these birds decided upon this spot for a summer resort. As times went on and the surrounding islands populated no man had the heart to disturb them, until now Crane Island is pointed out from passing boats as one of the curiosities of the northwest.

Seymour 6, Linton 0.

The Linton boys carried home the worst defeat they ever received from the Seymour club. They had a good field but their pitcher was easily hit by Seymour batters. On the other hand they were unable to connect with Schmidt's curves and Seymour's out-finders had no work to do. The Linton boys were the worst set of kickers that have been on the diamond this year but they were unable to play or bluff any runs. The score was as follows:

Killed at Columbus.

John Spangler, who worked at Albert King's farm near Columbus was killed by a freight train on the Cambridge City branch at 2:15 Sunday afternoon.

Engineer Joe Spaulding had just blown the whistle for the crossing, when he noticed a man on the track ahead. He put on the brakes, and blew a warning blast, but the stranger heeded it not, and kept walking on toward the oncoming train. Hearing a second blast, he looked up and seeing his danger, apparently attempted to get out of the way of the engine. He started to step off the track to the right, then the left, hesitated as though he did not care to which side, and then stepped his left foot outside the track, to the left when the bumper of the engine struck him.

The train was stopped as soon as possible, and when the man was picked up he was dead. His neck was broken, his right arm, hip and leg, also broken, and his right side, from head to foot, bruised and crushed.

Spangler came to Columbus from Kentucky about a year ago and was very reticent about his past life.

A Card.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—A citizen takes this method of warning the howling, drunken, cursing crowd of would be young men of Seymour to choose some other street than North Ewing for the scene of their drunken carousals. The actions of this drunken mob in the early morning hours of yesterday's glorious Sabbath morning was witnessed by more than one. Could the parents of these boys—for they are mere boys—have seen them as others saw them yesterday morning, the chances are that many days would elapse before the boys would get the chance to make such a spectacle of themselves: a spectacle of the lowest form of dishonor for themselves and to their parents.

The next meeting of this crowd, or any similar aggregation on the street named above will have to answer for their actions.

Names this time will be withheld on account of the social standing of some of the boys' parents, but any repetition of such orgies will bring the names of all concerned to the bar of justice. Then no doubt the law-breaker and robber of young manhood—the licensed rum seller may have to use the boys' money to square himself in the eyes of the law—law did I say? Have we any law governing the sale of intoxicating liquors to minors? What say our officers, our fathers, our mothers?

DIED.

CONNER:—Robertson Howe Conner died at Oakland City Sunday July 13, at 2:30 p. m., of lockjaw. He went to Oakland City to spend the Fourth with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ross. While celebrating a giant firecracker exploded in his hand, tearing it badly and part of the explosive going through the hand. While the wound was very painful no serious results were anticipated until Sunday morning, when his father, John W. Conner, received a telegram indicating that lockjaw had set in. Mr. Conner left at once for Oakland City but did not arrive until after his son's death.

Robert Conner was born at Deputy, April 9, 1877, making his age 25 years, three months, four days. His mother died when he was but two years old. He has lived part of the time with his grandparents at Oakland City and part of the time with his father here. The remains will be brought here Tuesday afternoon at 3:15 over the Southern Indiana and the funeral will be held Wednesday at 2 o'clock.

Jeffersonville Newspapers.

The good people of Jeffersonville will have abundant opportunity to read the news in a few days. Besides the Louisville dailies which flood the town and Reuben Dailey's Jeffersonville News, a democratic organ, E. E. Dougherty, of the Sellersburg Mail, expects to start his daily next Monday. Since Dougherty's plans have taken definite shape, Horace E. Hopkins, a newspaper man who has been in mercantile business for a long time, announces that he will at once begin the publication of a daily to be called the Sun. Three daily papers will make a pretty heavy tax on the business men of Jeffersonville if all receive sufficient patronage to maintain themselves.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by W. F. Peter druggist.

The annual announcement that Ringling Bros. desire an Indiana site for winter headquarters for their big shows is now appearing in several Indiana newspapers. Marion, Anderson, Warsaw and Peru have become somewhat excited over the bait, and even Huntington has had a touch of it. It is a smooth trick to secure free advertising for the circus while touring the state. The same scheme has been worked on former trips.—Logansport Pharos.

There is one rational way to treat nasal catarrh: the medicine is applied directly to the affected membrane. The remedy is Ely's Cream Balm. It restores the inflamed tissues to a healthy state without drying all the life out of them and it gives back the lost senses of taste and smell. The sufferer who is tired of vain experiments should use Cream Balm. Druggists will sell for 50 cents. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York, will mail it.

HE CURSED THE TOWN

END OF THE FIRST CAPITAL OF ILLINOIS PROPHESED BY AN INDIAN.

The Destruction of the Town of Kaskaskia Was in Accordance With the Last Words of the Chief Who Died For a Woman's Love.

Since the waters of the Mississippi River washed away the last vestige of Kaskaskia, the first capital of Illinois, an old legend that contained the prophecy of the total destruction of the once flourishing little city has been recalled. Kaskaskia was situated on a peninsula at the junction of the Kaskaskia and the Mississippi rivers, and in 1882 the Mississippi river cut its way through the peninsula, leaving the remnant of the town on an island. The water continued to wash away the rich alluvial deposits on which Kaskaskia was built until, late in 1900, the last foot of the land where the town once stood disappeared. This singular ending of Kaskaskia's once splendid ambitions has recalled to the superstitious the story that the town was cursed in the eighteenth century by an Indian who had been wronged by one of the leading citizens.

Jean Benard came to this country from France in 1698, bringing with him his wife and his 10-year-old daughter Marie. The family settled in Kaskaskia, where Benard established a merchandising business. The Frenchman soon became one of the most prosperous and most influential men of the town. Marie, his daughter, grew to be a beautiful woman, much courted by the most eligible young men of the new country. She was in no hurry to accept any of them, and her fame as a belle spread from Lake Michigan to the Gulf of Mexico.

A young chief of the Kaskaskia tribe of Indians, having become converted to Christianity after several years of study under the tutelage of the Jesuits, built himself a house in Kaskaskia and was taken into partnership in one of the trading houses there. He was prosperous, handsome and well educated and was soon received into the homes of the white settlers. One night at a ball he happened to meet Marie Benard.

The girl was at once fascinated by the tall, fine looking Indian, who fell in love with her at first sight and made no secret of his admiration. But Benard perceived soon that the attachment and forbade his daughter from communicating with the young Indian. To make sure that there would be no more meetings Benard used his influence to prevent the chief from attending any of the social entertainments given in Kaskaskia.

But love always finds a way, and the young couple managed to see each other despite all the precautions of the girl's father. But Benard became aware of these meetings and again took means to prevent them. He was a man of wealth and influence, and he had the Indian forced out of his partnership in the trading company.

The Indian left Kaskaskia. For almost a year nothing was heard of him, and Benard thought that his daughter had forgotten her lover, for she appeared gay and careless, and she accepted with apparent pleasure the attentions of a young Frenchman. One night when a large ball at Kaskaskia was at its height Marie Benard disappeared.

Those who searched for Marie discovered that the young chief of the Kaskaskians had been seen that evening in the town, and the conclusion was at once reached that the girl had eloped with him. Benard at once organized a party to go in pursuit of the fugitives. As there was a heavy snow on the ground, their trail was easily discovered and followed. The Indian and Marie had crept away afoot, and as their pursuers were supplied with fast horses the young lovers were captured after a day's chase about 40 miles from Kaskaskia. Their destination had been the French settlement at St. Louis where the Indian had provided a home for his wife.

The Indian surrendered without resistance, and the posse started on the journey back to Kaskaskia, taking the two captives. Most of the men who composed Benard's party wanted to kill the Indian instantly, but Benard would not allow it, for he said that they should leave him to deal with his daughter's lover.

When the party reached Kaskaskia, the girl was placed in the convent there. Then Benard took the Indian to the bank of the Mississippi and binding him tightly to a log, turned him adrift in the river. As the helpless Indian floated away to his death he raised his eyes to heaven and cursed Benard, who, he declared, would die a violent death. The Indian's last words were a prophecy that within 200 years the waters which were then bearing him away would sweep from the earth every vestige of the town, so that only the name would be left.

The unhappy girl died in the convent Benard was killed in 1712 in a duel. The last trace of Kaskaskia has been obliterated, and the superstitious declare that the Indian's curse has had something to do with the passing of the once flourishing town. On dark and stormy nights the ghost of the Indian is said to appear. The specter, with strong arms bound and face upturned, floats slowly by on the river where the stream sweeps by the site of the vanished city in which Marie Benard once lived and in which she died mourning the red man that she loved.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

He Knew Better.
"Oh, John," she cried, "baby's cut a tooth!"
"Aw, go 'way!" broke in little Willie, who was playing on the floor. "You can't cut a tooth! You may break it but you can't cut it!"—Chicago Post.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. You can get this reliable remedy at The Peter Drug Co. ## A TRANSIT OF VENUS.

How It Was Observed by a Party of German Scientists.

On their way between Teheran and Tehran the members of an expedition sent to Persia by the German government to observe the transit of Venus met a solitary European lady riding in the opposite direction, a member of the English colony, who was as clever as she was beautiful. Having been long a resident in Persia, she was fearlessly riding alone a long way ahead of her caravan. The Germans marveled at such an apparition in such a dreary waste—wondered she wasn't afraid. Wouldn't she let some of them stand by until her servants and baggage came up? No, she was quite at ease, and usually in her travels was far ahead of her attendants, whose mules, more heavily laden, could not keep her pace.

"And now, gentlemen," she said, "what are you, and where are you bound?"

They introduced each other. One was the astronomer, another the photographer, another the archaeologist, the naturalist, and so on, and they were going to Isfahan to observe the transit of Venus. The lady smiled, started her pony and waved her adieu, saying:

"To observe the transit of Venus! Ah, well, you can go home, now, gentlemen! Your duty is done. Goodbye!"

The lady disappeared at a canter toward the horizon, and it was said that the Germans did not see the joke till a long time after Venus had disappeared from their ken.—Life of Major General Sir Robert Murdoch Smith, K. C. M. G.

THE NEW MANAGER.

Why He Did Not Discharge a Certain Railroad Conductor.

Among the first railroads built in the United States was a little line about twenty miles in length. In the course of time a big tunnel line was constructed through the same country. The original line became merely a branch. For many years it was run in a cheap way, with one locomotive, one engineer and two or three freight cars.

Finally a new general manager was appointed. He had been in the office but a week when he sent for the one conductor who had held the position ever since the road was built.

"I would like to have your resignation," said the general manager when the conductor appeared.

"My resignation?" inquired the conductor in astonishment.

"Yes, sir, yours."

"What for, pray?"

"Well, I want to make some changes and get new blood in the line," was the general manager's reply.

"I won't resign," answered the conductor.

"Then I will be compelled to discharge you, a step which for your sake I had hoped I would be saved from taking."

"Young man, you will not discharge me. I own a controlling interest in the stock of this railroad and elect the president and board of directors. I shall have you fired."

The old conductor did really own the majority of the stock and, as he said, put in his own board of directors and president.

He Could Cook.

"Can he cook?" asked the proprietor of the restaurant.
"Cook?" echoed the caller, who was rooting for a friend out of a job. "Can he cook? Say, I've seen that man make four squabs pies out of one old pigeon!"—Chicago Tribune.

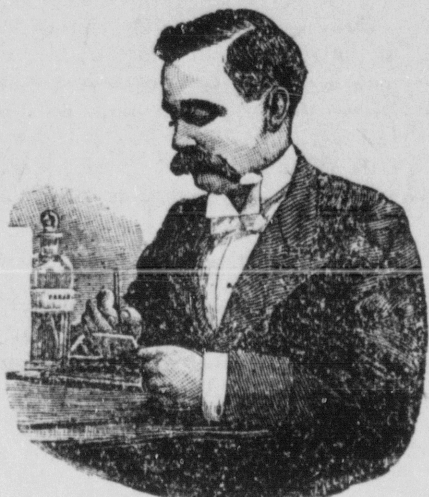

Appropos of the money question, many a man in public life or out has yet developed a scheme which will give everybody all the money he wants.—Philadelphia Ledger.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful.
